The Association of Supply Chain Professionals (ASCP) and the Japan Association for Logistics and Transport (JALoT) signed a strategic Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) on 22 July 2026 in Tokyo.

The MoU was signed in Tokyo by Mr. Morihiro Kawata, Representative Director of JALoT, and Mr. Anshuman Neil Basu, Secretary General of ASCP. This marks JALoT's inaugural overseas partnership of its kind and represents a historic milestone for India-Japan cooperation in the logistics and supply chain sector.

The partnership seeks to promote bilateral synergies between India and Japan. It is aligned with the broader vision of strengthening professional and institutional bridges under the India-Japan Joint Vision for the Next Decade, particularly the pillar of Next Generation People-to-People Partnership.

The objectives of the MoU include:

- (a) Fostering knowledge exchange, research collaboration, and best-practice sharing in digital transformation (DX), sustainability, and operational resilience;
- (b) Facilitating capacity-building programmes, joint events, and training initiatives that develop human resources in the logistics sector by integrating Japanese principles of Precision, Omotenashi, and Kaizen with India's dynamic economic growth and infrastructure development;
- (c) Promoting business networking, investment opportunities, and joint projects to strengthen India-Japan supply chain excellence; and
- (d) Supporting long-term policy advocacy and innovation for resilient, efficient, and sustainable logistics ecosystems in both nations.

About ASCP

The Association of Supply Chain Professionals (ASCP) is India's pioneering and premier professional body dedicated to the advancement of supply chain and logistics management. Established in 2017 as a non-profit organisation registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860, and headquartered in Mumbai, ASCP serves as a dynamic platform for supply chain professionals. It fosters knowledge exchange, best-practice sharing, capacity building, and industry collaboration through conferences, awards, research, and networking initiatives, with a vision to develop competent, value-based leaders equipped with a global mindset.

About JALoT

The Japan Association for Logistics and Transport (JALoT), also known as the Japan Logistics Federation (Nihon Butsuryu Dantai Rengokai), is Japan's premier industry body representing the logistics and transport sector. It plays a pivotal role in advancing industry standards, promoting digital transformation, sustainability, and operational excellence through research, policy advocacy, awards, and international collaboration.
